

Community Guidelines

What's MKTG WMN?

We're a new-age networking group that grows with you. We provide career support and industry intelligence through a community of women across roles, regions, and industries.

1. We're so happy you're here! 😊
2. Check out our Community Guidelines below to get the most out of this group. 📖

Here are rules that guide the community and how we interact with one other:

💖 Treat everyone with respect and kindness.

Discrimination, harassment, and bullying will not be tolerated. Please report any behavior that violates our community guidelines or causes concern to team@mktgwmn.com.

🌍 Be inclusive with your language and actions.

We're lucky enough to have members from all around the world. Please embrace and respect the diversity of thoughts, perspectives, and backgrounds.

🚫 Keep interactions productive.

We want this community to be a source of encouraging connection, not selling or spamming.

🗨️ Thread it, don't spread it!

Slack can quickly become overwhelming, but a great way to keep things organized is to thread your conversations and responses.

🔍 We encourage everyone to explore all of our different Slack channels and their purposes so you know you're posting a question or thought in the best possible channel. If you have an idea for a new channel, let Danielle Aihini or Maya Garnaat know in Slack and we'll make the call together.

Now that you're in, here's where we recommend you start!

1. Introduce yourself in the #general channel 🙋
2. Update your Slack profile with your title, location, and pronouns 📷
3. Browse our channels and discover engaging conversations 🗨️

Thanks for reading! Come join the conversation: <https://mktgwmn.slack.com/>